COURSE DESCRIPTION (catalog summary):

The AP Chinese language and culture course is designed to be comparable to fourth semester college / university courses in Mandarin Chinese. These college courses, which deepen students’ immersion into the language and culture of the Chinese-speaking world, typically represent the point at which students complete approximately 250 hours of college-level classroom instruction. Course work provides students with opportunities to perform Intermediate –to Advanced-level tasks, and students are expected to achieve proficiencies throughout the Intermediate range, as described in the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages Proficiency Guidelines.

The AP course prepares students to demonstrate their level of Chinese proficiency across the three communicative modes (Interpersonal, Interpretive, and Presentational) and the five goal areas (Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons and Communities) as outlined in the Standards for Foreign Language Learning in the 21st Century. Its aim is to provide students with ongoing and varies opportunities to further develop their proficiency across the full range of language skills within a cultural frame of reference reflective of the richness of Chinese language and culture. The AP course focuses on language proficiency while interweaving level- and age-appropriate cultural content throughout the course and providing for frequent formative assessment of students’ developing proficiencies within the content of their learning. Instructional materials and activities are carefully and strategically adapted from authentic sources to support the linguistic and cultural goals of the course.

GOALS (expected performance outcomes for students):

Interpersonal Mode
- Ability to comprehend, draw inferences from, and respond to spoken and written Chinese in a variety of personal, social and cultural contexts
- Ability to interact in a variety of situations in cultural contexts
- Ability to use critical thinking skills to derive meaning from context

Interpretive Mode
- Ability to comprehend and interpret spoken Chinese in a variety of social and cultural contexts that pertain to daily life
- Ability to comprehend and interpret a variety of nontechnical written Chinese texts that pertain to daily life

Presentational Mode
- Ability to provide information about events in immediate environment and to demonstrate some degree of spontaneous application of language
- Ability to describe an event or activity in a cohesive and coherent manner with linguistic accuracy
- Ability to demonstrate cultural appropriateness through spoken and written discourse
- Ability to compare and contrast phenomena and explain one’s preference

CALIFORNIA CONTENT STANDARDS (how the course aligns with California and/or national curriculum standards):

While current State guidelines are being completed for World Languages, the NMUSD will adhere to National standards & guidelines. Foreign languages and our ability to use them is an effective instrument for international understanding and allow students access into the global community. The World Languages program is dedicated to providing a comprehensive, competitive program for language learners that integrates the “five ‘C’s” of language acquisition which are aligned with the National Standards, ACFTL Proficiency Guidelines, and California Framework for World Languages and California Standards for the Teaching Profession:

COMMUNICATION - Students present information and exchange ideas about a variety of subjects
- Standard 1.1- Students engage in conversations, provide and obtain information, express feelings and emotions, and exchange opinions.
- Standard 1.2- Students understand and interpret spoken and written Mandarin on a variety of topics.
- Standard 1.3- Students present information, concepts, and ideas in Mandarin to an audience.

CULTURES - Students acquire knowledge and develop understandings of cultures other than their own.
- Standard 2.1- Demonstrate understanding between practices and perspectives of Chinese Cultures.
- Standard 2.2- Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between the products and perspectives of Chinese cultures.

CONNECTIONS - Topics integrate disciplines such as history, art, music, and English to reinforce what the student is learning in the school setting with their current language studies.

Standard 3.1- Students reinforce and further their knowledge of other disciplines through Mandarin.
Standard 3.2- Acquire information and recognize the distinctive viewpoints that are only available through the Mandarin language and cultures.

COMPARISONS - Students gain insights into languages as they compare their respective use of expressions, conventions, and language structures. Critical thinking skills are challenged with various teaching approaches and techniques.
Standard 4.1- Demonstrate understanding of the nature of language through comparisons between Mandarin and English.
Standard 4.2- Demonstrate understanding of the concept of culture through comparisons between Mandarin cultures and their own.

COMMUNITIES - Students learn to use the target language within and beyond the school setting
Standard 5.1- Use Mandarin both within and beyond the school setting.
Standard 5.2- Students show evidence of becoming lifelong learners by using Mandarin for personal enjoyment and enrichment.

EVALUATION (how the effectiveness of the course will be monitored and assessed):

Throughout the AP Chinese Language and Culture course, assessments are frequent, varied, and explicitly linked to the content and skills that comprise the learning goals of each unit of study. AP Chinese Language and Culture Exam is used as a model to assess both cultural knowledge and language skills within the context of complex tasks. Formative and summative assessment tasks are identified at the beginning of each unit of study. Within each unit of study, all three modes of communication – Interpersonal, Interpretive, and Presentational – are normally assessed within the context of integrated performance tasks. In addition, timed assessment is employed within each unit’s context as well.
