Overview:

The two-semester Advanced Placement Program in the History of Art is designed to provide the same benefits to secondary school students as those provided by an introductory college course in art history: an understanding and enjoyment of architecture, sculpture, painting, and other art forms within historical and cultural contexts. In this course, students examine the major forms of artistic expression of the past and of distant cultures, as well as those of our own time and environment. They learnt to look at works of art critically, with intelligence and sensitivity, and to articulate what they see or experience. Students who achieve this goal may receive advanced placement and/or credit at many colleges and universities. The AP History of Art Examination reflects content areas Ancient through Medieval and the Renaissance to the present and requires students to make broad cultural comparisons using specific works as stimuli for discussion.

This course is intended to stimulate interest in understanding the entire world of art. References to historical analogies and prototypes are made in order to relate works ranging widely in time and space. To this end, works of art are viewed and discussed in a context of ideas, theory and style.
