We make it easier to improve the relationship between lupus and oral health.

Take advantage of reimbursements for periodontal (gum) treatments, fluoride applications, sealants and more.
Get reimbursed¹ for dental treatments. Help improve oral health.

Scientists at the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation found that among those with lupus, the better a person’s oral health, the less severe their disease.² To keep oral symptoms under control, we reimburse¹ periodontal (gum) treatments, fluoride applications, sealants and more.

The connection between lupus and oral health

ULCERS³
As many as 45% of people living with lupus can have either acute or chronic ulcers or lesions on the lips, on the tongue and inside of the mouth. Ulcers are especially common during “flare-ups.”

PERIODONTITIS⁴
People with lupus are more likely to struggle with periodontitis (severe gum disease), which is particularly concerning because of the link between gum inflammation and the overall health of the rest of the body.

DRY MOUTH⁴
Lupus attacks saliva-producing glands, and some medications cause dry mouth as a side effect, which can lead to mouth sores, gum disease and tooth decay. Fluoride treatments can help counter the damage.

How the reimbursement process works

1. Enroll
To get reimbursed, you first have to enroll in the Cigna Dental Oral Health Integration Program® by either:
   - Going to myCigna.com, selecting Coverage > Dental and filling out the registration form online
   - Calling the number on the back of your Cigna ID card and asking for a mailed registration form

2. Submit your claim
Go to your dentist and pay the copay or coinsurance for the covered treatment. If your dentist is in the Cigna network, they’ll send us a claim for reimbursement. If your dentist isn’t in the Cigna network, you might need to submit the claim. We’ll review the claim and mail full reimbursements for covered treatments in about 30 days.
